Cookies

The Fruit Skelter web site does use cookies. You have nothing to worry about as this small text file (only a few kb in size at most) doesn't harm or slow down your computer / device. By law it cannot personally identify you personally and will never contain any personal details such as your email address or contact details. We only use cookies to help us make your experience of our website enhanced.

Submitting personal information

When you supply any personal information to us, so that we can fulfil your order for Fruit Skelters (or reply to your enquiries), we do have legal obligations towards you in the way we deal with that data. This information will not be made available to anyone else under any circumstances, unless we are obliged by law to disclose it. In general, any information you provide to the makers of the Fruit Skelter will be used only to reply to you.

We will hold your personal information on our systems for as long as is necessary to reply to your enquiry or order and remove it as soon as that the purpose has been met. No such information will be used by the makers of the Fruit Skelter for cold-calling or spam mails or any other unsolicited communication. We will ensure that all personal information supplied is held securely, in accordance with the UK Data Protection Act 1998 and Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations 2003.

Access to your personal information

You have the right to request a copy of any personal information that the makers of the Fruit Skelter hold about you, although in practice it is most unlikely that there will be any.
